How to use this website

My Health Data Path will help make the value of health data easier to understand, and hopefully spark some conversations about the positive impact that can come through integrating data.

Transcript

1. Welcome to My Health Data Path. This website is here to answer your questions about how health data is used, and why it's important to understand the value of sharing data.

2. The pathways that data travel depend on the situation. This website lets you choose different 'Data Paths', which describe those different situations.

3. You can choose to look at one data path by clicking on an image - for example, to see the Data Path for Finding a Treatment, click on the image that looks like this:

4. To read all of the information about that data path, simply scroll down through the conversation.

5. If you encounter an underlined word, you can hover your mouse above it to read a definition.

6. By clicking on the "Back to Top" button on the bottom of your screen, you will return to the other data paths where you can select another one to explore.

7. You can also click on other tabs to read about Our Story, Our Collaborators, additional learning resources, and finally, FAQs.

We hope this site is helpful for you as you strive to learn more about the value of your data.
